

In the 4 years since the 2020 election, I've spent a few thousand hours satisfying my deep concerns about the legitimacy of the results, all over the country. In summary, I have almost no faith in our election system. Everything from mail-in ballots (see points attached), voter rolls, machines & software horrifies me to no end. Even data points that emerged from Tuesday further support the claims of incompetence & yes, outright fraud.

As an example, here are the vote totals from the past 5 presidential elections, up to Tuesday:

2008 - 131M
2012 - 129M
2016 - 137M
2020 - 160M (outlier)
2024 - 140M

For the same elections, here are the vote totals for the democratic candidate:

2008 - 69M
2012 - 66M
2016 - 65M
2020 - 81M (outlier)
2024 - 68M

As you can see, the Dems gaining 16M votes in 2020 only to shed 13M of them in 2024 canNOT be a natural occurrence. The 81M simply doesn't fit the other 4 years!

The very LAST thing we need in this country is to introduce a shiny new toy like RCV when our existing system is badly broken!

Mike Tamborrino
Stamford, CT